

MediCapture Opens New Corporate Headquarters Company Operations Moving to Philadelphia's "Medical Mile"

Philadelphia, PA – February 13, 2006 – MediCapture, Inc., a leading supplier of digital medical image capture solutions, today announced that it is opening its new corporate headquarters near Philadelphia's famed "Medical Mile" along Route 202. The offices will be home to MediCapture's primary corporate operations including Sales and Marketing, Finance, Engineering, Quality Assurance, and Human Resources. Customer Service and Product Fulfillment will continue to operate from the Company's Florida offices.

"We're very pleased with our new facilities," said Michael Bishop, the Company's President and CEO. "Opening a corporate center in Philadelphia significantly expands our national presence, placing MediCapture at the heart of two of the world's leading medical technology markets in Pennsylvania and Florida. Moving our primary business operations to the 'Medical Mile' is a natural fit for us and will allow us to better serve our customers, dealers, and distributors, while helping us collaborate more closely with our technology partners, many of whom are also located in the area."

"Opening our new corporate headquarters represents a significant milestone for the Company," added Mark Panetta, MediCapture's Chief Financial Officer. "We've been planning this expansion for some time as we continue to implement our aggressive long-term growth strategy. It's the latest reflection of MediCapture's solid financial performance – we've been consistently tracking to our projections, and now as we look ahead, we're positioning the Company with the extended infrastructure we'll need to sustain us through a period of rapid growth. The added corporate support and services are timed to coincide with the upcoming expansion of our product line and the release of our next-generation suite of image capture solutions."
